DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,2,4,10,11,12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Hlavacek (U.S. Patent Number 5,572,872).

Hlavacek discloses a liquid cooling, storing and dispensing device. The device comprises a container having inner shell 12, outer shell 17, cover 21, a spring 14 urging the package 11 toward the cooled wall 13 providing thermal contact (thermally conductive material is inherent), thermoelectric module 15 and heat sink 16. Hlavacek also discloses thermoelectric cooling can be provided with an automatic control system to keep the temperature at a set point (col.3, lines 51-56). Hlavacek also discloses the duration of its application is controlled by the temperature of the item being cooled, the temperature of the thermoelectric module, the ambient temperature or any combination of these temperatures (claim 9). The basic device may have a fan unit to increase the rate of heat dissipation from a heat-dissipating unit of the refrigerating unit. The basic device may have thermal insulation material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3744

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hlavacek (U.S. Patent Number 5,572,872) in view of Osterhoff et al. (U.S. Patent Number 5,720,171).

Hlavacek discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Hlavacek does not disclose two containers. Osterhoff et al. disclose two cylinders thermoelectric cooling in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of providing two-container cooling/heating. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of Hlavacek having two containers in view of Osterhoff et al. so as to cool two containers.

5. Claims 6 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hlavacek (U.S. Patent Number 5,572,872) in view of Sola (U.S. Patent Number 2,838,916) or Cretzmeyer (U.S. Patent Number 4,580,405).

Hlavacek discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Hlavacek does not disclose a rotating container means. Sola and Cretzmeyer disclose a rotating container means in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of increasing heat transfer. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of Hlavacek with a rotating container means in view of Sola and Cretzmeyer to increase heat transfer.

6. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hlavacek (U.S. Patent Number 5,572,872) in view of Kieler (U.S. Patent Number 4,704,875) or Bloch et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,494,316).

Art Unit: 3744

Hlavacek discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Hlavacek does not disclose a container positioning means. Kieler and Bloch et al. disclose a position means in the same field of endeavor or analogous art of positioning for the purpose of easy access. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of Hlavacek with a position means in view of Kieler or Bloch et al. to have easy access.
